The use of black in modern decoration.

THE colour harmonies that women like, as a rule, are not only brighter than those which men prefer, but rather different in kind, being harmonies of affinity, while the others are harmonies of contrast. The vogue for black has at last been accepted by the judicious few, and we see occasionally and increasingly—black rooms with black curtains, that is, white and black—white and black carpets, and China, and White and Black cushions, and White and Black lampshades. There is a good reason for the success of black in decoration, for on account of its neutrality it forms a perfect background, provided it is "flat," that is without lustre. To state the exact truth from a technical standpoint, a dead black is not black, the light transforms it into a thousand colours. Even the shadows of a black coat are not black, but greyed by the atmosphere. Now, imagine this atmospheric black as a foil to the rich Browns of furniture, to the Gold of picture frames, and then add the human note, in the varied costumes worn at any, an evening party or a ball, and you have harmonies of contrast, not of affinity, and you get the full value of all colours.

We should like you to see what a large selection of White and Black Articles we have for sale in our Showrooms—Carpets, Curtains, Cushions, China, etc. If we are thinking of a novel and beautiful scheme of decoration, we shall be glad to assist you.

IN VIEW OF THE ABOVE REMARKS, OUR WINDOWS THIS WEEK WILL INTEREST YOU.

CONCLUDING DAY.

CARLITA WINS C. B. FISHER PLATE.

(BY OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.)

The Victoria Racing Club was very fortunate as regards the weather for its spring carnival, that for the concluding day being cool, bright, and pleasant, and the interest in the sport was equal to that of the corresponding day last year. The track was first-class, and fast times were registered. Despite the weather and the previous days' racing, the carnival was a success, and the grand display of floral blooms in the reserve was equal to that of the previous year. The card was run through with- out the slightest friction, and the mishaps which occurred were few and far between. The other obstacles, neither riders nor horses being much the worse. Business in the betting market was brisk, and the ringmen had the better of the financial battle. Sydney horses did better than on previous days by winning all the places in the C. B. Fisher Plate, while Lingie de- feated Red Signal in the Spring Handicap.

THE DRESSES.

The State Governor, Sir Arthur Stanley, was the only Vice-Regal representative present on Saturday, and in attendance were Mrs. Stanley, Mrs. Elliott, and Mrs. Conant. Mrs. Elliott's gown was dressed in a black tulle and lace affair, with a white tulle collar and cuffs, and a pink tulle skirt. Mrs. Conant wore a black tulle and lace affair, with a white tulle collar and cuffs, and a pink tulle skirt. Mrs. Stanley wore a black tulle and lace affair, with a white tulle collar and cuffs, and a pink tulle skirt.

During the current season she secured the A.C.C. Handicap Plate, and last week ran third to Patrobas and Westcourt in the Mel- bourne Handicap. The field for the Victoria Handicap was one of the best, and the race was regarded as a pretty open. Tinto was the popular selection, and he was closely run in the market by Highland Clan, Tim Doonan, and Cobram, while there was also good money for Repulsion and Cornhill. In the early stages Big Bob, Spanish Main, Repulsion, and Tinto formed the leading division, but Spanish Main came down over the third turn in the straight, leaving Repulsion, Tinto, Big Bob, and Cornhill to clear the treble in fine style. The obstacle near the bridge brought Big Bob to grass, and Tinto, with Repulsion and Cornhill in close company, conducted his geld along the back and the bridge, where he resigned command in favour of Repulsion, who, with Tinto and Cornhill in his wake, showed the way to the turn, where Cornhill took charge of affairs, and Repulsion and Tinto were not afterwards troubled. Repulsion was the favourite, and he scored easily from the favourite, with Tinto in the second place, and Cornhill in the third. The winner was a Victorian-bred mare by Wallace from Carrianna, by Lada, and her previous success included the Windsor Handicap at Caulfield and the V.R.C. Van Veen Stakes.

THE RACING.

The Spring Handicap, a race restricted to three-year-olds, served as a curtain-raiser, and a baker's dozen were stripped for the fray. The Oaks winner, Roanoke, was the popular selection, with Gai and Lingie not far behind. While long prices were available about the others, Roanoke ceased to win from end to end, and she lasted until heads were fairly turned for home. Here the favourite came through on the rail, and at the distance her victory seemed assured; but Red Signal and Pancre were back again, and Lingie was coming along at a great bat. A most exciting finish was fought out from the distance, and the result was in doubt until the narrow margin of Red Signal and Lingie were hoisted for a dead heat, with the favourite only half a neck away, and a similar trifle in advance of Pancre. The dead-heaters, whose owners divided the prize, are both by Linacre (imp.), and both were bred by the Thompsons. The dam of Lingie is Lady Pamela, by San Francisco (imp.), from Bonnie Treat, by Waller, while that of Red Signal is Red Jack by Lochiel, from Perilous, by Cliveden.

Fourteen left the paddock for the Melbourne Handicap, and the contest began as sent out at the head of the queue, with Air King, Roanoke, Lingie, and Red Signal in the front. The first half-mile was covered with a fair measure of support. The favourite was among the first to get going, and taking command when two-thirds of the journey had been completed, he seemed comfortably from Roanoke, with Bourlure in the other position. Air King shaped most disappointingly, and was the last to get home, but he was not in the least in danger. The winner was bred by her owner, Mr. E. D. Clarke, and is by the well-known sire, Tinto, from a mare by Lingo from Dum Dum, by Carbine. At Caulfield last month she ran second to Belian Consort in the Muna Nurseries, on V.R.C. Derby Day she was third to Euterpe and Irish Comedy in the V.R.C. Marlborough Stakes, and on Thursday she ran second to Heathcote in the Muna Nurseries.

A dozen took the track for the V.R.C. Handicap, and Marcellus, who carried 22lb more than his Melbourne Cup impost, was sent out as a very short-price favourite. The New Zealand-bred gelding Football was next in demand, and there was also money for Repulsion, Gai, and Lingie. Marcellus was next in demand, and there was also money for Repulsion, Gai, and Lingie. Marcellus was next in demand, and there was also money for Repulsion, Gai, and Lingie.

The principal withdrawals for the C. B. Fisher Plate included St. Stanis, Garlin, and Tragette, and in a field of seven the A.C.C. Derby winner, Carbine, received the support of the public. Carbine was next in demand, and there was also money for Repulsion, Gai, and Lingie. Carbine was next in demand, and there was also money for Repulsion, Gai, and Lingie.

Repulsion in pursuit, and there was an attempt to make a dash for it, but Carbine was too good for them. Repulsion was next in demand, and there was also money for Repulsion, Gai, and Lingie. Repulsion was next in demand, and there was also money for Repulsion, Gai, and Lingie.

NOTES.
Though Sydney was amply represented on the track during the V.R.C. Spring carnival, the measure of success achieved by the talented drivers of them, Gai, Heather, and Carbine, earned winning brackets, and the V.R.C. Handicap was won by Carbine. A couple of races were captured for South Australia by Jarman and Kallagawa, who were the only two horses from that State to appear in the V.R.C. Handicap.

GREECE.

NEW PREMIER.

KITCHENER.

VISIT TO NEAR EAST.

It is officially announced that Earl Kitchener has left London for the Near East. The visit has been undertaken at the request of his colleagues.

Mr. Asquith is in charge of the War Office during Earl Kitchener's absence.

King Constantine has accepted Mr. Zaimis' resignation of the Premiership.

M. Scoufoulidis has been appointed Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs. All the former Ministers, with the exception of M. Zaimis, remain.

A Bulgarian communiqué states that one division of the Bulgarian army has entered Nish.

The Servians defeated the Bulgarians at Isvar (a small town midway between Krivopalak and Eskub).

Austrian headquarters admit that the fall of Gorizia (20 miles north-west of Trieste) is inevitable.

According to an unofficial Petrograd report the initiative in Galicia is with the Russians.

BARDANELLES.

TRKISH ATTACKS.

FOUR REPULSED.

INDIA.

GENEROUS WAR GIFTS.

RECRUITING PROCEEDS VIGOROUSLY.

DELHI, Nov. 6.

Mr. Asquith's speech was telegraphed to India at remarkable length, and was read with the deepest interest, being well received by all classes.

Internal conditions continue satisfactory. North-west frontier affairs for the time being appear to be quiet, after the severe punishment given to the rebellious tribes.

Indian gifts continue to make generous war gifts. The latest include the Maharaja of Indore, one lakh of rupees for the St. John Ambulance; the chief of Wankar, two more cars; the Maharaja (Sindhu) of Gwalior, an additional armoured aeroplane; the Maharaja of Patiala, a quantity of clothing for the St. John Ambulance; the Maharaja of the Sikhs at the front; the Maharaja of Bikaner, 50,000 rupees for the St. John Ambulance war hospital.

India continues to furnish important contributions towards the equipment of British and allied forces. The Government is being made by the Government and local authorities to increase the output of wool from India, which supplies one-third of the world's output of this important material.

Half the jute in the world is manufactured in Calcutta, where the mills are working day and night making bags of all sorts for the Allies. Many industrial workers are prospering greatly, especially in factories producing supplies. The ten-day strike in Birmingham, and the manufacture of munitions continues briskly. Agricultural conditions on the whole are fair to good. Prices are steady. The wheat export has been temporarily closed.

Rain is required generally in north-west India.

Resuming for the Indian army proceeds vigorously, especially among Sikhs, Gurkhas, and Punjabi Mohammedans, and the entire country shows the keenest resolve to give all possible aid to secure final victory for the Empire.

EASTERN FRONT.

IN GALICIA.

THE INITIATIVE.

IN RUSSIA'S HANDS.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 6.

A communiqué states: German attacks near Divinsk failed. The enemy left 1000 dead on the field. We repelled all attacks in the southern theatre.

We captured 734 and two guns westward of Rafalovka, on the Svir; also 8500 at Seiskovitz.

Russian ships have opened fire against the German positions near Schlok (fifteen miles to the west of Riga).

GALICIAN CAMPAIGN.

The initiative in Galicia is with the Russians, who between November 1 and 4, by means of short, sharp blows on the River Strypa, captured 28,000 prisoners and 14 cannons.

GENERAL SENTENCED.

General Greifelt, the former Commandant of Kovna, has been court-martialed and sentenced to 15 years hard labour, and the loss of all civil and military rights, for not taking adequate measures for the defence of the fortress and for being absent during the fighting.

Since the 1st instant 20,000 Austro-Germans have been captured on the Strypa. Fourteen cannons were also captured.

ENEMY REPORTS.

A Berlin communiqué states: Despite extraordinary high losses the Russians continue their unsuccessful attacks between the Sventen and Ilsen Lakes.

An Austrian communiqué states: We completely repulsed the Russians from Seiskovitz and the west bank of the Strypa, and captured 2900 prisoners.

German reports state that during recent fighting on the Strypa the total Russians captured numbered 9000.

BRITAIN'S FLEET.

WHAT IT HAS DONE.

DUTCH TRIBUTE.

LONDON, Nov. 5.

A correspondent of the Amsterdam "Telegraaf" states after a visit to the British North Sea fleet, one should say more than that Britain had not done enough in this war.

If she had equipped the greatest army in the world the war could not have been won by it. But only by her strength at sea has the commerce of her Allies been kept going, and the sinews of war provided by the over-stretched British fleet.

The correspondent adds: "I cannot conceive of conditions in which the British fleet would get the worst of a naval engagement."

AMERICAN DEFENCE.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S SCHEME.

DEFOUNDED BY MR. BRYAN.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.

Mr. Bryan has denounced President Wilson's national defence programme as a reversal of American policy, a menace to peace, and a challenge to the spirit of the Constitution, which teaches us to influence others by example, rather than by exciting fear.

America, he says, was not threatened from any quarter, and it is absurd to attempt to carry a pistol or a club when an upright and honourable course of action is enough to ensure the country against attack. Why, he asks, should America abandon the hope so long entertained of setting an example to Europe?

IRISH EMIGRANTS.

CUNARD COMPANY'S DECISION.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

There were exciting scenes at Liverpool, a large number of Irish emigrants embarking on the Cunard liner, and the spirit of the gamut of a dense, boisterous crowd.

The recruiting officers endeavoured to dissuade the emigrants, but none responded. There was a dramatic development at noon, when the emigrants assembled at the landing stage. A number of the crew walked ashore, and told the emigrants that they refused to sail with men capable of service. The Irish men emphatically declared, "We do not see why we should shake white slavers are allowed to run away."

The Cunard Company decided not to take the emigrants. The decision was taken on a Council of the company's initiative, without outside instructions. The company issued the following notice: "Until we further advise, we cannot accept bookings of British subjects fit and eligible for military service."

Previously taken for next week.

TRADE RETURNS.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

Imports into the United Kingdom during October increased by £15,415,122, exports by £23,307,150, and re-exports decreased by £17,224, as compared with the corresponding month last year.

FAIL OF BAGDAD.

GERMAN REPORT.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 6.

The "Hertner Tagblatt" asserts that the British have taken Bagdad.

WESTERN FRONT.

ALLIES' POSITION.

"STEADILY IMPROVING."

LONDON NEWSPAPER REPORT.

PARIS, November 6.

A communiqué states: We repulsed two attacks with grenades and liquid flames against La Courline.

A French air squadron bombarded the asphyxiating gasworks at Dornach.

The "Morning Post" correspondent in Northern France says he has no doubt that the situation on the western front is steadily improving. Under a spectacular advance a great deal too much is made to pertain to local successes by a public anxious for a big event.

The same public is depressed because a local success does not prove a smashing blow, but each local success is not only of great importance in itself, but part of a great plan, the key of which is in one man's hand—a strong man—General Joffre.

MERCILESS FIGHTING.

The "Vossische Zeitung" gives a vivid description of the fighting on the western front. The wild days of battle in September, says the paper, wrought a new spirit of trench fighting in Flanders, Artois, Champagne, and Lorraine. It was more virulent and cruel than hitherto, and the embitterment of the great offensive still vibrates in the air.

Further on, the merciless fighting was confined to the Argonne, where the woods favoured horrible methods. These have now extended along the whole front.

The oldest forms of weapons, combined with the most modern engines which science has devised, are in use on the western front, and the use of aviation and liquid fire, recall the ancient days. The things used for pitching trench mines are the same as the Roman weapons; and the hand grenades were important in the Seventeenth Century. Even the old-time visor is revived as a protection against poison gas.

The present-day masks make the wearers resemble the ghostly figures associated with the inquisition. Even the horses wear masks in the poison zone.

Thus the battle wears with thrusting, wrestling, throttling, biting men, even fist and foot to throat; yet the General Staff's daily report is "nothing new."

The correspondent of the early summer are now things of the past; the troops no longer exchange harmless jests. When misadventures are exchanged they are of an unpleasant and hateful character.

The bitterness grows, and mutual scorn deepens, until the day when the enemy accumulates sufficient ammunition to attempt another assault.

BIPLANES COLLIDE.

Two biplanes collided and ignited at a great height in a Paris suburb. The four occupants were killed.

BERLIN COMMUNIQUE.

A Berlin communiqué states: The French stated that seven German battalions at Loos lost 80 per cent. of their strength. This is entirely invented.

AMERICAN NOTE TO GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, Nov. 5.

The American Note regarding interference with trade reminds the British Government that it promised to minimize inconveniences, and regrets that it has not done so. Instead, the interference is increasingly vexatious. There are three complaints, the first referring to the taking of vessels to port for search. The leading Powers before the war did not contemplate this practice, which results in undue delay, and American vessels are being detained on mere suspicion, and American commerce is being hampered by the new convention.

The British presumption that where imports to an enemy's neutral neighbours increase the goods are intended for re-export to the enemy. This presumption is fundamentally unjust, and offers great opportunities for abuse.

American demands as illegal and unjustifiable the attempt to interfere with trade because a belligerent suspects the imports are intended to replace goods sold to the enemy. That is a matter with which a neutral vendor is unconcerned. Secondly, concerning the blockade, American cannot demand that America should be the only one to enforce a blockade by the new convention.

America was formerly inclined to accept the so-called blockade under the Order-in-Council of March 11, but in the circumstances which have now developed she can no longer permit it to remain unaltered. The blockade is neither effective enough, nor is it a challenge to the spirit of the Constitution, which teaches us to influence others by example, rather than by exciting fear.

OUR WOUNDED.

MATINEE IN LONDON.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

Leading artists are arranging a matinee to take place at His Majesty's Theatre on November 19 for the benefit of Australian wounded soldiers. Madame Clara Butt has given one hundred guineas for a box. Madame Melsa sent £100 for a box.

SEPARATE PEACE.

NAIVE SUGGESTION.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 6.

The Socialist paper, "Volks Tionie," published at Chemnitz, naively suggests that as M. Viviani is no longer Premier, Mr. Briand can ignore the agreement between France and the Allies against a separate peace.

REFERENDUMS.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

The "Times" says the Federal and State compromise is eminently sensible. "We have already said," continues the article, "that the taking of referendums now would be a strange contrast to the patriotism of the soldiers. We are glad that another way has been found, though we are not surprised that the dominion's people should again set an example of patriotic self-sacrifice."

THE "TIMES" COMMENT.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

The situation in Albania is extremely grave. The rebels defeated Essad Pasha's army.

ALBANIAN REBELS.

The rebels defeated Essad Pasha's army.

THE BALKANS.

GREECE.

THE NEW PREMIER.

FALL OF NISH REPORTED.

BY THE BULGARIANS.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

King Constantine has accepted the resignation of the Zaimis Cabinet.

M. Scoufoulidis is Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs. The former ministers remain.

M. Scoufoulidis will retain all the members of the late Cabinet except M. Zaimis.

[M. Scoufoulidis was formerly a banker in Constantinople, and after retiring from business settled in Athens. He has been elected several times to the Greek Parliament. In 1897 he joined M. Raïss Cabinet as Minister for Foreign Affairs, and by his ability was able greatly to mitigate the terms of peace which were imposed on Greece by the victorious Turks after the war of 1897. When M. Venizelos (then Premier) went to London to discuss peace terms after the Balkan war, M. Scoufoulidis accompanied him. M. Scoufoulidis is believed to share the same views in the present crisis in Greece as are held by M. Venizelos, and it is probable that he has accepted the responsibility of leading the Government in order to prevent a collapse, and thus give time for Romania to make up her mind.]

Reuter's correspondent at Athens states: The Greek Government has decided that M. Zaimis should retain the Premiership. M. Zaimis refused, on the ground that he only accepted the position provisionally to ease the situation. He was determined to abstain from any active part in internal politics, which was established by the dissolution. The King then summoned the Council of Ministers.

BULGARS DEFEATED.

The Servian Legation states that the Servians completely defeated the Bulgarian army in the war (a small town midway between Krivopalak and Eskub).

The French infantry and British cavalry from Krivopalak hastened the victory. The Bulgarians were decimated, and evacuated the right bank of the Vardar.

The Bulgarian army was defeated with advancing from Old Serbia to invade Macedonia via Vele and Perlepe. We took Isvar Gorko, the Bulgarians retreating towards Vele.

A Montenegrin communiqué states the enemy occupied an unimportant position near the Perlepevian frontier. The engagement continues. The enemy's losses were great, but ours only numbered 200 killed and wounded.

The Germans are constructing an immense Zeppelin shed at Sofia.

FRENCH COMMUNIQUE.

A Paris communiqué states: The Bulgarians are encircling opposite Krivopalak, 200 metres from our outposts, and are bombarding the most advanced of these. We seized Novak bridge, north-westward of Krivopalak.

A Salonika message states that the Servians forced a battle on Bajardo, south-eastward of Nish, compelling the enemy to retreat, and imprisoning many.

The British troops have junctioned with the French at Strumitza. The French front has been extended as far as Balkan Range, and another British division has been sent to the Balkan Range.

A Servian army corps has been stationed in Albanian territory to suppress any hostile movement.

Bulgarians failed in their attempts against Krivopalak. We carried the villages east of Hahrovo, and attacked the frontier crests. The enemy is bombarding Valandovo.

The "Daily Chronicle's" correspondent at Salonika says that news from the south is good. The French have driven the Bulgarians from Bobitza.

The French front extends from Mount Isvar to Krivopalak, and the Italian army is advancing towards Servia to co-operate with the French forces.

The Bulgarians attacking on the French front westward of the Vardar, between Koludere and Krivopalak, were driven back with enormous losses.

A Servian official report says that the Bulgarians are reported to have been estimated at 100,000. Turkey sent a strong cavalry force to the Danube region. There are 100,000 Turks with the Bulgarians, many from Asia Minor.

Three warships passed Nish, conveying eleven ships laden with munitions for Turkey.

THE USBUK BATTLE.

"I. Secolo's" correspondent at Salonika, says that during the USBUK battle the Servians became disorganised as the result of Macedonian regiments' laying down their arms and deserting.

There are serious reports from Albania to the effect that the Albanians at Prizrend, Jakova, Bisha, are rising against the Servians.

The weather is terrible. The rainy season is delaying the Austro-German advance. The Servians' last hope, Countless enemy guns are immobilised and endangered in the Morava Valley. General von Mackensen daily asks for fresh reinforcements. This is embarrassing to headquarters, since the reserves are a poor quality.

By making a great effort, writes Signor Luciano Magrini, a well-known war correspondent, in "Il Secolo," the Servians will be able to hold out till November 19, but no longer.

He adds that Essad Pasha (the ruler of Albania) is an ally of the Servians, and will be safe in the region of Durazzo.

Trains from Monastir for Salonika are full of refugees. All males from 16 to 60 years of age have been called out and sent to the trenches.

The march of the Bulgarians on Monastir is attended with danger, as they are attacked by the French and British on the flanks. The Servians have prepared defences at Marmotiza Hills (eleven miles north-west of Monastir). This will enable them eventually to make a stand there.

GERMAN ATROCITIES.

The "Journal de Geneve" states that the Germans massacred men, women, and children, at a village of Duetzka, southward of Poljarevatz. The slaughter was indiscriminate and wholesale.

Eye-witnesses declare that the Germans apparently were not only murdering and killing the people without knowing why. They were also a general massacre at Solovatz, to the southward of Semendria. Helpless old men and invalids were taken from their beds into a public square and executed in the presence of the population. Old men, women, and children were taken to the south-eastward of Belgrade, houses were fired, and those attempting to escape were shot down. The German allegation that civilians fired at them is absolutely false.

ALBANIAN REBELS.

The situation in Albania is extremely grave. The rebels defeated Essad Pasha's army.

EARL KITCHENER.

DEPARTURE FROM LONDON.

VISITING THE NEAR EAST.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

Earl Kitchener has left London on a visit to the Near East.

The Official Press Bureau declares that it is untrue to suggest that Earl Kitchener tendered his resignation or that his visit to the King had any relation to such subject. It further denies that his visit to the eastern theatre of war in any way betokens that his resignation is contemplated. On the contrary this visit is undertaken in the discharge of his duty as Secretary of State for War, which he has no intention of abandoning.

Earl Kitchener's destination is the eastern theatre of war.

Earl Kitchener's visit to the Near East has been undertaken at the request of his colleagues.

The newspapers quote Earl Kitchener's reference (in his maiden speech in the House of Lords on August 25, 1914, shortly after the war broke out) to his post as a temporary one.

Earl Kitchener and the Prime Minister, Mr. Asquith, conferred this morning. Afterwards the War Council met.

The Prime Minister (Mr. Asquith) is carrying on the War Office during Earl Kitchener's temporary absence.

The wild rumours circulating in London between 4.30 and 5.30 were finally silenced by the Press Bureau's announcement that Earl Kitchener had not resigned. Newspapers were eagerly purchased in the streets, and there were sensational placards everywhere.

A court circular states that the King gave an audience to Earl Kitchener last night. Newspapers regarded the statement, in view of the King's health, as implying that matters of grave moment were involved.

THE "GLOBE" SUPPRESSED.

The Official Press Bureau states that the military authorities have suppressed the "Globe" newspaper. The police seized yesterday's and today's copies of the paper and the plant. It is understood that this action is due to the statements which the paper made yesterday concerning Earl Kitchener.

The police seized the plant of the "Globe," which, despite denials, republished the report that Earl Kitchener had resigned.

arily arranged for people to cry "Banzai" spontaneously from one end of the Empire to the other.

The Court returns to Tokio on November 25, where the great festivals will include the most wonderful chrysanthemum show ever held in the world. Four hundred varieties of the flower will be shown.

FACTORY FIRE.

LARGE LOSS OF LIFE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.

A fire destroyed a six-story candy house in Brooklyn. Girls jumped from four stories to the ground, amid terrific excitement. Owing to the large crowd the fire department was jammed, and 20 of the girls were killed, including a number of men. Five others were injured. The stairways were filled with flames, and prevented escape. It took the lives of 500 employees who were together. Scores of panic-stricken men and girls, not heeding the policemen's shouts, jumped from the fire escapes, when they were rescued quietly they could have saved part of the roof collapsed, carrying down the ruins.
